Classic Quotes from Literary Giants

Many of the funniest things ever said come from renowned authors and playwrights. Their sharp observations on life, love, and human nature have stood the test of time.

Mark Twain

Mark Twain, known for his sharp wit and humor, has provided us with some classic quotes:

- "I can live for two months on a good compliment."
- "The secret of getting ahead is getting started."
- "Whenever you find yourself on the side of the majority, it is time to pause and reflect."

Oscar Wilde

Oscar Wilde's clever wordplay and satirical insights are legendary:

- "I can resist anything except temptation."
- "Be yourself; everyone else is already taken."
- "To live is the rarest thing in the world. Most people exist, that is all."

Humor from Comedians

Stand-up comedians have a unique ability to observe everyday life and present it in a humorous light. Their quips often resonate with audiences, making them memorable.

George Carlin

George Carlin was known for his irreverent humor and thought-provoking insights:

- "I don't have a bank account because I don't believe in banks."
- "The reason I talk to myself is that I'm the only one whose answers I accept."
- "Fighting for peace is like screwing for virginity."

Joan Rivers

Joan Rivers, one of the first female stand-up comics, was known for her bold and brash humor:

- "I don't exercise. If God wanted me to bend over, he would have put diamonds on the floor."
- "I've had my face lifted so many times, it's now a map of the United States."
- "I'm no doctor, but I'm pretty sure that my next husband will be a heart surgeon."

Witty Observations on Everyday Life

Some of the funniest things ever said stem from the mundane aspects of life. These observations resonate with many, making them relatable and hilarious.

On Relationships
