3. Build Your F-150: Utilize Ford's online configurator or work with a dealer to build your customized F-150, selecting your preferred trim, engine, color, and features.
4. Place Your Order: Once you have finalized your selection, place your order with the dealer. Be prepared to provide a deposit to secure your order.
5. Track Your Order: After placing your order, you can track its status through the dealership or Ford's ordering portal.
6. Delivery: Once your truck is built and arrives at the dealership, you will be notified for pickup or delivery.

Key Considerations When Ordering

Before placing your order for the 2024 F-150, consider the following factors:

Budget

Determine your budget, including the cost of the truck, taxes, and any additional fees. Consider the potential for additional costs associated with add-ons and packages.

Usage

Identify how you plan to use the truck. Will it be primarily for work, leisure, towing, or off-roading? Your intended use will heavily influence the trim, engine, and features you should prioritize.

Resale Value

Certain features and trims can impact the truck's resale value. Research market trends to determine which options retain value better over time.

Availability of Features

Due to demand and supply chain issues, some features or trims may have limited availability. Stay updated with your dealer regarding any potential delays or changes in availability.
