Rules for Adding ing and ed

1. Adding "ing"

The general rule for adding "ing" is straightforward: simply append "ing" to the base form of the verb. However, there are exceptions and specific rules to be mindful of:

- Final E Rule: If the verb ends in an "e," drop the "e" before adding "ing."
- Example: Make → Making
- Doubling the Final Consonant: If a one-syllable verb ends in a single vowel followed by a single consonant, double the final consonant before adding "ing."

- Two or More Syllables: If a two-syllable verb has the stress on the last syllable, double the final consonant.
- Example: Begin → Beginning

2. Adding "ed"

Similar to "ing," adding "ed" also has its own set of rules:

- Regular Verbs: Most verbs simply take "ed."
- Example: Play → Played
- Final E Rule: If the verb ends in "e," just add "d."
- Example: Love → Loved
- Doubling the Final Consonant: When a one-syllable verb ends with a vowel and a consonant, double the final consonant before adding "ed."
- Example: Stop → Stopped
- Changing Y to I: If a verb ends in a consonant followed by "y," change the "y" to "i" before adding "ed."
