Understanding Possessive Nouns

Possessive nouns indicate ownership or a relationship between two entities. They are formed by adding an apostrophe and, typically, the letter "s" to a noun. The application of possessive nouns can vary depending on whether the noun is singular or plural.

Forms of Possessive Nouns

1. Singular Possessive Nouns: For singular nouns, the possessive form is created by adding an apostrophe followed by the letter "s" (e.g., the dog's leash, Sarah's book).
2. Plural Possessive Nouns: For plural nouns that end in "s," the possessive form is achieved by adding only an apostrophe at the end (e.g., the dogs' park, the teachers' lounge). If the plural noun does not end in "s," the possessive is formed the same way as singular nouns (e.g., the children's toys).
3. Compound Possessive Nouns: When dealing with compound nouns, the possessive form is typically applied to the last noun in the compound (e.g., my brother-in-law's car).
