Understanding the AP Human Geography Exam Format

The exam is divided into two main sections: multiple-choice questions and free-response questions. Each section assesses different skills and aspects of geographical knowledge, requiring students to apply concepts to real-world scenarios and analyze spatial data.

Multiple-Choice Section

The multiple-choice portion typically consists of 60 questions that must be completed within 60 minutes. These questions cover a broad range of topics and test recognition, comprehension, and application of geographical principles. Many questions include maps, graphs, and images to assess analytical skills.

Free-Response Section

The free-response section usually contains three questions to be answered in 75 minutes. This part evaluates a student's ability to construct well-organized responses, synthesize information, and apply geographic theories to specific situations. Tasks may involve analyzing case studies, interpreting data, and explaining spatial patterns.

Scoring and Weight
