What is A Course in Miracles?

“A Course in Miracles” is a spiritual self-study program that was published in 1976. The text was written by Helen Schucman, a clinical psychologist, who claimed that the content was dictated to her by an inner voice she identified as Jesus. The course consists of a textbook, a workbook for students, and a manual for teachers. Its core teachings emphasize the concepts of forgiveness, love, and the shift from fear to love.

Core Principles of A Course in Miracles

The teachings of “A Course in Miracles” can be summarized into several core principles:

1. The Illusion of Separation: The course teaches that humans are not separate from one another or from God. The perception of separation leads to fear and suffering.
2. Forgiveness: Central to the course is the idea that forgiveness is the key to inner peace. By forgiving others and oneself, individuals can release the burdens of anger and guilt.
3. Love as the Answer: The course asserts that love is the only reality. Fear is an illusion, and when individuals align with love, they experience true happiness.
4. Miracles: According to the course, miracles are shifts in perception from fear to love. They are not supernatural events but rather changes in how we view ourselves and others.
